

ABSTRACT

Complexes of a selected class of chiral ligands with molybdenum, tungsten or chromium, preferably molybdenum, are effective as catalysts in highly enantioselective and regioselective
5 alkylation of allylic substrates. Such compositions provide a versatile and low-cost alternative to existing catalysts.